

Kidnap And Beat Lemon Grove Woman

Six Hell's Angels Held In Jail For Kidnaping

by Jack Pollard

Two Spring Valley men have been arrested as part of a 23 member group of the Hell's Angels during a raid that began Friday night stemming from kidnapping charges of a 28-year-old Lemon Grove woman.

Robert E. Thomas, 22, of 9011 Olive st., and Gary L. Moen, 25, of 1207 Elkton blvd., both of Spring Valley, were arrested on conspiracy charges arising from the abduction of the woman on March 16.

On Monday, four of the Hell's Angels and two of their girlfriends pleaded innocent to death penalty charges of kidnapping with intent to commit bodily harm in El Cajon Municipal Court.

All six were ordered held without bail. A preliminary hearing has been set for them on April 15.

The 23 members of the motorcycle gang were charged with conspiracy to kidnap for robbery, conspiracy of assault with intent to commit bodily harm and conspiracy to commit sexual perversion.

Thomas, president of the local club, pleaded not guilty to possession of a sawed-off shotgun. Bail was set at $2,500 for him.

Warrants for the arrest of three other Hell's Angels members have been issued by the court on the kidnapping complaint. They will be brought in for plea when arrested.

Charged and now sought by the Sheriff's department are Robert Glaze, Thomas R. Doyle and Jimmie W. Shelton.

Account Given
The 28-year-old woman who is single, gave this account:

While walking home to her apartment on March 16, she was kidnaped, forced into a car and taken to a house at 400-K East Broadway in El Cajon.

There her assailants tore off her clothes and subjected her to personal indignities. The women assailants burned her face with cigarettes.

She was held in a locked room for 4½ hours while being subjected to these indignities and then taken back to Lemon Grove and put out of the car.

She reported details about the abduction on Sunday, around 10 a.m., and was hospitalized.

The Hell's Angels expressed surprise at the severity of the charges that were handed out by Municipal Court Judge Donald W. Smith.

He refused a plea by their attorney, Michael S. Hegner that bail be set so the six could be released.

Attorney Hegner told this newspaper, "I don't believe that the girl is telling anything close to the truth, and that it is the most ridiculous case of kidnaping ever charged."

The roundup came after a week of investigations into the case that began after a search warrant was obtained for the El Cajon Broadway address.

El Cajon Police Help
El Cajon police with the aid of sheriff's department detectives and deputies arrested most of the suspects as they were leaving the house, but others were caught on North Magnolia ave., just across from the El Cajon Police Headquarters.

Lt. Robert Newsom, head of the investigation division of the sheriff's department said that those arrested were members of the Dago Chapter of the Hell's Angels.

He said that evidence was recovered from the house, and that some of the suspects were caught with dangerous drugs in their possession.

Those brought into the court and charged on the kidnapping counts were Bobbie Lee Dean, 22, of 400-K E. Broadway, El Cajon; Barbara J. Trammell, 22, of the same address; Raymond J. Piltz, 25, of 138 E. Quintard st., Chula Vista; Leo Anton St. Germaine, 37, of 10349 Prospect st., Santee; David L. Swaine, 21, of 400-K E. Broadway, El Cajon, and William C. Steele, 24, of the same address.

Released

Those who were released in connection with the case were Manuel B. Camacho, 37, of 768 Seventh st., Imperial Beach, a mechanic identified as secretetary, and Gary L. Moen, 25, of 1207 Elkton blvd., Spring Valley, treasurer.

Others were Susan L. Taylor, 19, of 5895 Cowles blvd., a beautician; Elmer Ray Hamlett, 18, of 219 El Cajon blvd., El Cajon, a laborer; Stephen W. Greel, 22, of 2187 Gay Rio Terrace, Lakeside; James C. Flynn, 27, of 2435 Kettner blvd., a painter.

Also Charles A. Mendez, 34, of 3006 Reynard way, an iron worker; Rachael P. Raulerson, 22, of 1268 Sparrow st.; Virginia A. Musey, 21, of 589 Gardner st., El Cajon, a student.

Also released were Melodie C. Sisemore, 18, of 2855 Bradley st., El Cajon, a babysitter; Sharon Sue Flynn, 21, 2435 Kettner blvd.; Janet Kay Goodman, 19, of 1309 Opal st.; Charlotte A. Hagedorn, 23, of 255 Bradley st., El Cajon; Raymond G. Penwarden, 23, of 737 Isthmus court; Anna M. Camacho, 36, of 768 Seventh st., Imperial Beach, a housewife; Jason L. Final Exams Make It Big At Grossmont College Tonight

Final exams are making a hit! As a matter of fact, they are a sell out at Grossmont College.

Students in the College's Food Service Management program will prepare and serve their final exams tonight in a portion that college students and teachers are anxious to dive into.

The exams, part of the multi-scheduled gourmet dinners will be dished out at 6:30 p.m. to more than 40 people, some who have had reservations made since last year's event.

According to William R. Chesseman, director of food service management, each of the six series dinners is managed by a student who will receive an Associate in Science degree in Food Service Management in June.

The exams feature the food and decor of six foreign nations famous for their foods.

Students serving as waitresses or waiters as well as the entertainers will be dressed in costumes appropriate to the country being featured.

Tonight's dinner will be under the direction of Robert McAlexander, of La Mesa. He is a Helix High graduate. Featured will be a Swedish Smorgasbord.

On April 4, an Italian dinner will be presented by Miss Carol Adolph. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Adolph, 3883 Carancho st., Lemon Grove.

Other dinners will follow on April 18, featuring Greece food and will be managed by Mrs. Minnie Courie. On April 25, a Chinese banquet managed by Miss Doris Kenyon, and finally a dinner on May 2, featuring the exotic foods of India managed by Miss Charlene Johnson.

The first dinner honoring

France, was served last Thursday, and was managed by Richard F. Jones, La Mesa. Jones, nephew of Larry Imig, long-time San Diego hotel and restaurant owner, plans a career in food service, with his goal a catering service of his own.

Jones was required to plan, requisition the food, and prepare the menu as well as plan and provide the decorations for the dinner.

He chose France as his theme country because France has a variety of food and good food is always associated with France. Jones' dinner featured a choice of Lobster Newburg or Entrecote with Mushrooms and included such French delicacies as French onion soup, punch Orleans, French peas, Waldorf Parisian salad, and Petits Pains topped off with strawberry tarts.

Other members of the class assisted Jones in the preparation and serving of the dinner.

The public is invited to get a crack at taking the final exams by calling 465-1700, ext. 230 for reservations. While most of the dinners are sold out persons can be placed on the waiting list.

CHAIRMAN — Attorney William Faulwetter, right, of La Mesa, and Supervisor Robert Dent outline boundaries of Supervisorial District 3 for Dent's upcoming race for re-election.

Dent, seeking his fourth term as Supervisor, has named Faulwetter as East-county chairman. Faulwetter is president of the board of the Spring Valley Fire District; immediate past president of the Foothills Bar Association; Chairman of Zone 3 commission of the S.D. Flood Control district, and former president of the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce.

Dictionary Hill Variance Turned Down by Planners

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A variance to allow intensive development of the 25-foot lots on Dictionary Hill in La Presa was denied Friday by the county planning commission, although the case was not actually decided on the merits.

The way was left open for the Security Engineering Company to return for a rezoned and further variances, although the company could appeal the denial to the board of supervisors.

There were at least 20 persons in the audience in opposition to the development, but most of them did not speak after Assistant County Counsel Robert Berrey said that the plan was essentially for duplexes in the R-1-A zone which allows only single family residences.

The company's plan was to combine two single small lots and build a separate residence of two stories on each. There would have been 67 such combinations and the houses would have had common interior walls.

The location is on both sides of Saint George and Arapaho at Vallejo street.

The company had asked that the minimum lot size be reduced from 6,000 square feet to 2,500 square feet, that is, to the area of the 25-foot lots.

Objectors primarily were people who have combined two lots to build single-family houses.

Ed Fackler, Sr., said he has an interest in most of the lots to be developed under the plan. He said the high costs of improvements and taxes has placed him in the position of getting little for the land even if the development was approved.

Kuchel Raps Riot Squad

U. S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel attacked the notion of a "national riot squad" as an abridgement of the American right to self government and a threat to the principle of local control.

Instead, California's senior Senator drew on the Constitution to call for the strengthening of law enforcement at the local level as the answer to America's law and order crisis.

Noting "some signs of panic" in the United States, Kuchel said that "some have suggested a national riot squad to respond to riots throughout the nation."

Such a suggestion, he said, "smacks of police state tyranny, totally offensive to our traditional American concept of law enforcement."

Yorty Turns Down U.S. Senate Bid

Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles has said that he is not a candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Waiting until the deadline day for filing his anticipated candidacy for the June 4 California Democratic primary before announcing his decision, Yorty told a crowded L. A. City Hall news conference:

"I want to speak out for America. I want to try and tell Americans the truth about the peril to this country. And I think as Mayor of the City of Los Angeles I can do it better than I can do it as a candidate for office where I might be accused of seeking support in my candidacy."

26 Mt. Miguel, Monte Vista Students Named For Achievement

L.G. Schools Nab U.S. Money

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Office of Education has just certified a $53,984 payment to the Lemon Grove School District, Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-San Diego, told the Review this week.

The money is being awarded under the so-called impact aid program, which compensates school systems that enroll large numbers of students whose parents live or work on tax-exempt federal installations.

Van Deerlin said the Lemon Grove district is entitled to a total of $115,148 in impact aid during the current budget year.

A New Point of View On Problem of Driving

Reckless and drunken drivers are being viewed presently by the legislature.

According to John Stull, Assemblyman (80th Dist.) two new programs being studied prior to Assembly action takes a view of the problem from a level new to lawmakers.

Stull, who is attracting attention because of his sound and progressive lawmaking philosophy, suggests that two new programs may provide some long-sought answers.

One is a new concept of coping with the reckless driving habits of minors which could have wide implications.

In brief, the measure provides that youngsters be permitted to "work out" traffic fines, rather than paying the fines, at the discretion of judges, referees or traffic hearing officers.

Many of our young people have plenty of money to spend and receive no lasting impression when fined for a traffic offense. Perhaps a period of work would be far more impressive than merely paying a stipulated amount and forgetting the whole matter, Stull said.

Under this bill, the minor would work for a public agency and receive $10 per day for the work performed, the money to be applied to satisfy the fine imposed by the court. Adult traffic violators may now be sentenced to work out fines, but not so our juveniles.

This measure would give the courts a needed alternative to complete their complement of work tools in bringing home the fact that driving is a serious business. We must impress on our young people that safe driving is a way of life and reckless driving is a way of death.

Stull thinks that many young persons regard an automobile as a toy — or a vehicle for "showing off" — rather than as a means of transportation. And although their driving habits may have improved somewhat lately thanks to driver education programs in schools and safety conferences, there will continue to be youngsters who need something more emphatic to bring home to them the realization that when one tampers with safety, one endangers life, he says.

The other program attacks the drinking driver problem and includes a bill seeking a mandatory jail sentence for a first offense. This would require drunken drivers to spend at least five days in jail if they are involved in accidents with injuries or damages of $200 or more.

Require alcoholic tests of the blood to be taken of all persons killed in auto accidents to determine if excessive drinking contributed to the death.

Authorize judges to use a new presumptive formula in drunken driving cases. Under this, the alcoholic content of a driver's blood would determine if he were not under any influence of liquor, if his driving were impaired — a new offense — or if he were guilty of drunken driving.

Eliminate the defenses of contributory negligence and assumption of the risk in personal injury lawsuits against

The meeting highlighted Religious Vocation Month for the Guild. President Ralph Weismann moderated the question and answer period. Father Mahedy emphasized the importance that religious received in his home and this contributed greatly to his vocation. He is a priest of the Order of St. Augustine. Judge Mahedy, who received his appointment to the bench from Goodwin J. Knight, is a San Diego County Criminal Court Judge while Father Mahedy is Director of Religion at St. Augustine High School in San Diego.

"Reality" Sermon To Be Aired Sunday

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

The Golden Text which sets the theme for this Bible lesson is from Isaiah: "Since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him."

Spring Valley Kiwanians Hear College Dean

Activities of young Kiwanians were brought to light at the March 20 meeting of the Spring Valley Kiwanis Club. Larry Coons, a dean at Grossmont College, said the Grossmont Circle K Club, sponsored by Spring Valley Kiwanis Club, now has 52 members.

He pointed out, they are doing a lot of good in the area, with their treasury money.

Bill Neilson, vice president of Monte Vista Key Club, also sponsored by S. V. Kiwanis Club, presented Kiwanis Club treasurer Hoyt Brown with a certificate of appreciation for his address before the Key Club and for monetary assistance given Key Club this past year.

Guest speaker at the March 20 meeting of S.V. Kiwanis Club, was David Keir of the Naval Undersea Warfare Center, San Diego. He was introduced by program chairman Paul ee. Keir talked and showed slides on the bathyscaph "Triest" and the new and improved "Deep Star."

He said the "Triest" had made a record dive of 36,000 feet near the Philippine Islands. The new bathyscaph, "Deep Star" has room to handle several instruments and is more agile than the "Triest."

A woman scientist made her first and only dive in the "Deep Star." Purpose of the bathyscaphs is for research on the bottom of the ocean and new discoveries are being made every day, Keir said.

Candidate Scheidle Proposes County Government Reforms

San Diego City Councilman Harry Scheidle, who is a candidate for County Supervisor in District 3, told members of the Lemon Grove Men's Club Friday that the county government costs could be cut if he is elected.

Last Day For '66 Medicare Claims Nears

He said that he was partly responsible for the 9 percent tax reduction given the City last year. This, he said, was in line of a 10c transit tax override.

He said County government needed businesslike reforms, similar to those he help bring to the City.

He reminded that he had a part in the Metrosaver, the Unified Port District, Community Concourse development, development of Salk Institute and Mission Bay Park "San Diego is genuinely a City in Motion," Scheidle said, "and I am proud to have had a hand in the motion."

Scheidle decried the supervisors' practice of turning down items 4.1 in the presentment's home district. "When this happens, it's because there is a deal or it's because the supervisor is ineffective," he charged. He said he would bring county welfare into better focus and he would work out some of the county's flood problems through 1911 Improvement Act financing.

Scheidle has another year to serve on City Council. He will oppose the incumbent, Bob Dent.

April 1, will be the last day you can claim medical insurance payments under Medicare for services you received during July, August, and September 1966.

According to Sumio Oto, social security district manager in El Cajon, anyone who had the "doctor-bill" part of medical care during that period and who had medical bills amounting to more than $50 during the entire last 6 months of 1966 may be eligible for some Medicare payment if it has not already been claimed.

Medicare claims for services rendered between October 1966 and September 1967 may be made through December 31, 1968. The April 1 deadline applies only to services rendered in July, August and September 1966.

Oto emphasized that Medicare claims may be made even if the bills for the services have not yet been paid.

Thrushes inhabit most of the world and most are noted for their singing.

Youngsters Like Lemon Grove; Win Cash Prizes in Contest

Five youngsters won cash prizes in an essay contest sponsored by the Lemon Grove Old Times Days Association. Winners are Michelle Cremer, Guyneth Zimmerman, Cathy McKaig, Sandra De Rosa and Jim Minor.

Michelle won $9. The others won $4 each.

All are students at Palm Junior high school.

Judges chose the winners from 220 contestants.

Excerpts from the essays will be used to promote Old Times Days coming to Lemon Grove in May, according to Al Woods, OTD chairman.

Essays were written on "Why I Like to Live in Lemon Grove."

Here are the essays:

Why I Like To Live In Lemon Grove
By Michelle Cremer

If the last time you visited Lemon Grove was sixteen years ago, all you may have seen were a few ranch-style homes, the Sonka Brothers' general store, and a few other store buildings on Broadway. If you came back this year, you would see that Lemon Grove has really grown.

Since its beginning, years ago, Lemon Grove had a promising future. At first, lemon groves grew throughout Lemon Grove because of the mild, sunny weather. Because of this ideal weather and location, thousands of people have moved here. The lemon trees have been cleared out for the new churches, parks, schools, and housing developments. In gratitude to the lemon, our town's one and only monument, is an enormous, concrete lemon. I can't remember a year when I was young that our entire family didn't pose in front of it for pictures for Christmas cards.

The leaders of Lemon Grove aren't interested in making our community famous or infamous. They are concerned in making Lemon Grove a safer and better place for their children to grow up in. For years the people of Lemon Grove have tried to get the best of education, churches, and park facilities. They have achieved this for all children here.

Lemon Grove is a center of transportation to areas of interest in and around San Diego County. It is near the mountains, meaning swimming, fishing, and hunting. We are also near many beautiful beaches with sun bathing and water skiing. A short drive can take you to Mexico, Los Angeles, and the deserts. In ten minutes you can be in the heart of San Diego City, and all of its activities. So you see, Lemon Grove may look unexciting from the cover, but when you look in, out pops all

Demand For Homes To Continue Strong S&L Leaders Told

Although the general money market has tightened, adequate funds for home building and home purchase are available from San Diego County savings and loan associations, Dr. Preston Martin, Savings and Loan Commissioner State of California told officials of the County Savings and Loan Association last week.

A survey of San Diego County savings and loan associations just completed by the league proves conclusively that the local, heavy demand for homes, the sustained savings inflows, and the general bright economic picture in San Diego should assure a healthy home building and home financing year for San Diego County.

Assets of local S&Ls are up 12%, compared with the same time last year, an increase of $158 million. Savings accounts aggregate $1.2 billion, an increase of 15%, while mortgage loans held by San Diego County associations now total $1.1 billion, a 10% increase.

San Diego S&Ls are experiencing healthy savings inflows, according to the league survey. Thus far in 1968, the net savings gain is nearly $20 million. The net savings, coupled with loan repayments and funds available from the Federal Home Loan Bank (credit reservoir of the industry), assure an adequate supply of mortgage funds. To date, new loans made by San Diego S&Ls total $41½ million, up 27½ million, or 196% over the same period last year.

When other people ask about Lemon Grove, I stick up for it. To me living here all my life has made me love this town very much. I wish that everyone in this world could have the advantages and chances of living in a beautiful country-like town.

Why I Like To Live In Lemon Grove
By Guyneth Zimmerman

Walking down the streets of Lemon Grove you shouldn't be surprised to hear a friendly "hello" or see a warm smile spread across the face of any person you meet because it is one of the friendliest towns I have ever been in. I think its size has a lot to do with it. It is not a little clump of buildings off to the side of the road, but neither is it a large city. Whether you know the people or not makes no difference because most of them are just as friendly anyway.

Lemon Grove is far enough away from San Diego so that you don't have to be bothered by all the hustle and bustle of a large city. On the other hand, it is close enough so that you can enjoy the delights San Diego has to offer.

It has many activities which teen-agers can enjoy. Miniature golf, bowling alleys, etc., provide entertainment for all ages.

Since Lemon Grove is so centrally located, it takes only a little while to enjoy the beauty of the beach, mountains, or desert.

Lemon Grove was appropriately named for the groves of lemon trees which covered this area a few years back. Today, it is still possible to see lemon trees in the back yards of many homes.

Lemon Grove's "best climate on earth" may not be so exceptional, but it is still pretty good. I couldn't complain.

The Dimmer View

drivers who have caused an accident and who have been convicted of drunken driving by a criminal court.

The author looks to these bills to assist prosecutors, help the innocent and eliminate crowded court calendars in cases involving drinking drivers. And they may prompt the convivial imbibor to forego that last "one for the road."

Meanwhile, the U.S. Supreme Court is readying a study by which it may be deemed that a drunk is a sick person, rather than a lawbreaker.

If the Court rules that a drunk is sick, and that arrest and jail constitutes "cruel and unusual punishment" for a person exhibiting illness in public.

We suspect that additional work will have to be done on the drunken driver bill before it can be truly effective.

It is not hard to imagine a drinker who carries a court's sentence in his pocket — one labeling him as being a sick-drunk — and using this to defy authorities to take legal action against him as a drunk driver.

Era of the Jailbird to End

There is considerable agitation now for doing away with jail-birds!

The idea, developed by the Assembly Committee on Criminal Procedure, is encompassed in a report handed to the Assembly earlier this month.

The voluminous study charges that California's system of severe criminal penalties, which are among the stiffest in the nation, is not deterring criminal acts — no more than the system protects society from criminals.

The study demands a quicker release date for those already jailed, and lesser jail sentences for those found guilty of criminal charges.

The study says that under such a program the present prison population would be reduced from 25,000 to 6,000-10,000. This would cut deeply into the $20 million budgeted for "lengthy and ineffective confinement of non-habitual or non-violent offender."

The Assembly Committee on Criminal Procedure wants to spring 'em as soon as it can be done without embarrassment to the plaintiff and to give the guy a parole officer instead of a jail cell.

California's general parole policy came under fire from the report, which noted the policy reflects emotion, not facts, and has become increasingly conservative and expensive.

It recommends a sharp reversal, suggesting:

"All offenders shall be released to parole at the expiration of statutory minimum parole-eligible periods except those convicted of willful homicide, aggravated assault, forcible rape and other specified crimes of serious personal violence, and those with histories of professional criminality of habitual extreme violence."

Couple this with the Supreme Court getting ready to decide whether a person has drunk too much booze is a drunk or an ill person and the pathway of leniency is becoming well worn.

As an aside, Dr. David Knox, a medical doctor making a report last week on the outcome of the Court's decision said that the nation's hospitals would not be able to house the patients if drunks were to be labeled "ill." Nor could the cost be kept within the ability of taxpayers to pay, he added.

Maybe courts, both Supreme and local, are contributing to the problem rather than helping to resolve it.

Assemblyman C. J. Conrad took a rather dim view of the Courts' attitude on crime and drinking last week. Said Conrad.

"If the drunk driver who drove on the wrong side of the freeway causing a crash which killed twenty bus passengers two weeks ago had survived the accident, he might well have retained his drivers license through the kindness of some judge."

"For, that same week, a Los Angeles judge restored a drivers license on the grounds that the woman was too intoxicated to decide whether or not to take the test. A few days before that episode, a judge here in Sacramento threw out a drunk driving charge against an individual with a previous record of drunk driving because the Deputy District Attorney had signed the complaint on the wrong line."

"Many legislators, myself included, fought hard to get the 'implied consent' law on the books. Now we are faced with some judges who apparently believe a person has a constitutional right to drive a car on California's highways while drunk."

"This attitude by some of the judiciary will increase the suffering and death of innocent people."

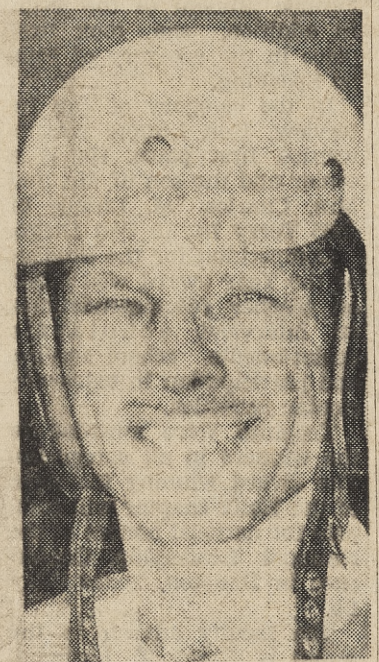

Skunks are not the only animals that emit foul-smelling liquids to ward off attackers. The aardwolf of Africa has scent glands under its tail and throws out an odorless liquid in defense.

New Home For IRS

California employers have a new mailing address for the wage and excise tax returns they file with the Internal Revenue Service.

Returns should now go to the IRS regional service center at Ogden, Utah 84405 instead of the district office.

Envelopes addressed to the service center are included in the tax form package mailed to employers.

Officials said that mailing tax returns directly to the service center will save the government several million dollars a year in shipping and building costs.

Stamp Machine Now Working

The stamp vending machine in the Lemon Grove Post Office vends 6c stamps — finally.

The machine will put out four 6c stamps and give a penny change for a quarter. Before it was modified postal patrons found the nearest to a six cent stamp the machine would come was two fours. That arrangement caused many patrons to become irritated. If hard looks and mean thoughts could do what they were intended, the vending machine would have been wrecked nightly.

In addition to cheerfully spewing a strip of six-centers, the machine will eject a five cent stamp for a nickel. Come to think of it, that figures! Nickel stamps can be used to stick on post cards. The dime slot is a time saver. It expels two nickel stamps ready to go on an air mail letter.

You are invited to try the device now that modification is complete, post office personnel say.

Highway 94 To Get Facelifting

The California Highway Commission has set aside more than $2 million in state funds to widen Route 94 Freeway from six to eight lanes.

The administrative officer for the Public Works Commission, Samuel B. Nelson said that the work will start 0.2 miles west of Route 103 Freeway in San Diego and at 1.1 miles east of Massachusetts ave. in La Mesa.

The Freeway currently carries more than 5,600 vehicles in one direction during peak hours, causing extreme congestion.

The widening will be accomplished by building the new lanes in the median section of the existing Freeway. A medium barrier, revision signing and lighting and installation of breakaway bases on lighting standards are included in the work.

The lighting standards, with the safety features, will be near the side of the freeway. They reduce injury to drivers when struck by a vehicle leaving the road.

They give way in the base section of the post.

Because of Lemon Grove's many fine churches and schools, it has a strong backbone which helps make a better community. When the schools and churches are strong, so is the community, and Lemon Grove is one of the strongest communities around.

After having lived here only a few weeks my parents decided this was to be the place of all future homes. Now after having decided the same, I wonder how a person could not enjoy the warmth and friendliness that Lemon Grove has to offer.

Why I Like To Live In Lemon Grove
By Cathy McKaig

Lemon Grove is a small town, and this is one of the reasons I enjoy living here. For one thing, you don't have to wait half an hour to cross a street or you don't have to hold your breath because of smog.

The people in Lemon Grove are a lot friendlier than other places where I've lived, too. In some places the people are so stuck-up it's hard to find a friend. Here, the first day we lived in Lemon Grove, I already had three friends.

In school, the kids are much more friendly. In the last school I went to, I had only one good friend for the whole year. Also, the teachers and principals are not so hard on you. In most of the places I've been, the schools were so crowded that there were hardly any privileges at all. They expected more of you, too.

I also like the location of Lemon Grove. It's not too far from San Diego, and there are more places to go because of this. You don't have to drive fifty miles to the nearest beach or city.

The climate also makes it nice to live in Lemon Grove. The cool wind off the ocean keeps us in fairly cool weather during the summer.

There are a lot of good recreation activities. If you like to bowl, you have a choice of two bowling alleys in this area. There is also a miniature golf course where you can have a lot of fun. They also have shuffle board for the older people. If kids are bored, they can enroll in summer school during the summer.

As I mentioned before, Lemon Grove is not crowded like many other big cities, but it still has fairly large shopping centers, restaurants, and a library. Lemon Grove may be small, but it provides a lot of things.

Why I Like To Live In Lemon Grove
By Sandra De Regne

Lemon Grove is like a present wrapped in a neat little package full of surprises.

In this neat little package, here are all the people who show pride of ownership with their homes. There is the pleasant atmosphere of all the citizens of Lemon Grove being kind to one another. This shows a good sign of an excellent town, which is very important.

I love Lemon Grove in the summer with the warm afternoons, which make you drowsy. Then there are the chilly winter months in which a comfortable and cozy home greets you when returning from school.

I wish that the people had not destroyed so many of our lemon groves, for I believe that the town's scenic structure should fit the name.

When I was told how this town started, I could not believe how fast Lemon Grove grew. To think that a few years ago, Lemon Grove had only an old fashioned general store, one post office, and one tiny little gas station. In just a few years, we have two dime stores, two drug stores, many food stores, all of which are very modern with everything you need. There are very modern banks and post offices. Lemon Grove boasts churches, restaurants, and shopping centers. And to think I haven't even began to mention them all.

When we first moved here, we and one other neighbor lived on our street. They were all empty houses. Most of them hadn't even been built yet. Now every house is filled and full of friendly neighbors ready to do good deeds for others.

Do you think there's something about the atmosphere of Lemon Grove that makes people want to be friendly?

Why I Like To Live In Lemon Grove
By Jim Minor

Lemon Grove, that's the town I live in. And do you know something? I wouldn't have it any other way.

Lemon Grove is large enough to have several schools, many kinds of stores, and different recreation areas. But it is small enough to have a personality. I think that is important.

You can live in a big city all your life and never really get to know it. While just living in Lemon Grove for 13 years, I feel as if it were a part of me.

There is a lot of open ground around Lemon Grove. This makes one feel sort of out in the country, away from all the people. I think that is an important feature also. This area not only is comfortable to those looking toward expansion. It also comes in handy if you own a horse.

Our town also has a very excellent climate. Even during the winter months you can always count on a few days of sunshine.

This town also has another thing going for it — people. Not too many towns have so many different people who are so interested in the well-being of the community.

Being small is an advantage, I think. It keeps the rush out and the air clean. It lets the people know more about their town and take more of an interest in it. I think this is why I like Lemon Grove.

I have traveled through many different towns, large and small, and I can never remember saying, "I would rather live here than in Lemon Grove."

S.V. Community Council Gets $350 County Check

The Spring Valley Community Council received a $350 check from the County of San Diego to be used for new brochures of Spring Valley Monday night.

The presentation of the check came at their regular meeting, and was made by County Supervisor Robert Dent. Dent also told of the many problems that faces Spring Valley.

He told the group that the people of the Valley will have to help the County in solving the flood control and zoning problems.

Wadie Deddeh, State Assemblyman of the 77th District was also on hand to point out several bills that are before the State Legislature.

Deddeh told the members of the council how the text book bill and the sales tax bill, will turn money back to the counties to help relieve property taxes.

He also highlighted the problems of pornography and the presentation of that literature bill before the Senate.

The Rumford Act was also discussed by the Assemblyman. Modifications to the Act were pointed out.

Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin, who was to attend the meeting did not. He was delayed in Los Angeles.

$8 Million Bond Issue Decision Expected By Hospital Officials

The Grossmont Hospital trustees are expected to make a decision soon on whether they will submit another construction bond issue to the voters in the Nov. 5 election.

The issue totals over $8 million and would be used to construct a 10-story wing addition to the hospital. The issue was defeated in last year's election.

Sweeping Modifications Urged In Venereal Disease Epidemic

Sweeping modifications in the State Prophylactic Law, and an extensive public educational campaign have been urged by a California Pharmaceutical Association spokesman as the "most progressive way to eradicate the epidemic of syphilis and gonorrhea throughout California."

According to James W. Gentry, executive assistant of the state pharmaceutical society, there are over 100,000 infected people in Los Angeles County alone.

Of the estimated one million new venereal infections in the United States each year, more than half are incurred by teenagers and young adults under age 25, he said.

"The control of venereal disease is one of the most significant social health problems of the day. Our state legislators must face the issue and encourage the health professions to use the tools they need to control the spread of this dreadful disease."

The statistical charts of the U. S. Public Health Service, Venereal Disease Branch, clearly indicate that in every state where there are administered prophylactic control laws the venereal disease rates per 100,000 population are significantly less than in those states that have no such controls.

Without our present enforcement and control of the State Prophylactic Act by the State Board of Pharmacy, California would be in very bad shape in so far as our VD rate is concerned.

Nevertheless, to meet this epidemic problem, the California Pharmaceutical Association has advised the State Board of Pharmacy and the VD Public Health Controller Officers in California that the California Pharmaceutical Association supports legislation to accomplish needed revisions in the present law as follows:

"Absolute prohibition for the sale, offering for sale, giving away, or otherwise furnishing or distributing prophylactics in California which fail to conform to the standards specified and adopted by the State Board of Pharmacy.

"Removal of the present 18 years of age limitation for the right to purchase or obtain prophylactics.

"Revising the requirements for the identification of manufacturer on prophylactics sold on prescriptions.

"And, revising the section which prohibits advertising prophylactics and/or containers to permit licensed pharmacists and physicians to disseminate information on the availability and use of prophylactics in the prevention of venereal disease.

We also recommend that the law permit the publication in professional literature and distribution through professional channels of information on the availability and use of prophylactics in the prevention of venereal disease."

Mr. Gentry concluded the State Pharmacy Association is inviting the American Medical Association, the California Medical Association and the various State and Federal Public Health agencies to join them in an all-out educational war against venereal disease.

Only in this way can we remove Gonorrhea and Syphilis from their third and fourth positions as leading communicable diseases in our country."

Social Security News

This is one of a series of columns about the Federal Medicare program published by the Lemon Grove Review as a public service to our readers. The questions are those most frequently asked about Medicare.

They have been compiled by Mrs. Jean Orban, Area Professional Relations Representative of California Blue Shield, which handles Part B (physician) Medicare Payments in most of California under contract with the Social Security Administration.

The answers are provided by Sumio Ota, El Cajon Social Security Administration District Manager.

Q. Last year I had to pay $90 when I went into the hospital instead of the $40 deductible I expected. I had paid my $50 Part B deductible earlier in the year and now I've paid it twice. Could this be right?

A. No. You have only one $50 deductible to meet each calendar year but you probably did not have proof (such as your last Explanation of Benefits from Medicare) to show that your deductible had been met for the year.

Many people going into the hospital have not had previous medical bills and this charge initially established their deductible.

When the hospital is reimbursed by Medicare and the previous deductible established, the $50 is used for charges not covered by Medicare or returned by check to the beneficiary from the hospital business office.

The "deductible deposit" is not routine in all hospitals but does occur in some of the larger areas.

Q. I keep hearing about Part A & B of Medicare. Just what is the difference between the two?

A. Part A is often referred to as "hospital insurance" and covers most charges for services as an inpatient in a hospital or an extended care facility at a home health agency services for a condition related to a period of hospitalization under some circumstances.

You simply sign up for it at your Social Security Office. Part B is optional. The charge is $4.00 a month and covers doctor bills and other services. This is deducted from your Social Security, Civil Service annuity, or railroad retirement check monthly. If you do not receive a monthly check, you may arrange to pay $12.00 quarterly.

To determine whether you have both coverages (which are excellent) check the lower left hand corner of your red, white and blue Medicare Card which should state "Hospital Insurance/Medical Insurance."

Q. I am 80 years old and never filed for medical insurance. Is it possible for me to sign up for it now? When will it be effective?

A. You may enroll anytime between now and March 31, 1968. Your medical insurance coverage will become effective July 1, 1968.

Q. My mother is in the hospital and will use her 90 days in a couple of weeks. Under the new law, can my mother get additional hospital benefits?

A. Yes. The law now provides for a lifetime reserve of 60 days hospital coverage. For each of the 60 days she uses she will be billed $20 per day.

I would like to point out that the reserve days used cannot exceed 60 days during her lifetime.

Q. I plan to file for Social Security in June. Will I get the increased benefits similar to those who have been receiving social security?

A. Yes. The 13% increase in monthly benefits will be paid to those already receiving and to individuals like yourself, who will be applying in the future.

If you have further questions regarding changes in the Social Security Law, write or contact the Social Security District Office, 1075 East Main Street, El Cajon, California 92021. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and until 7:30 p.m. on Wednesdays. The phone number is 442-0851.

Senator Kuchel Winds Up First Campaign Tour

During his first lengthy campaign swing through California, which ended Saturday, Senator Thomas H. Kuchel won General Eisenhower's praise as a legislator who produces "when the chips are down."

Kuchel's tour ranged through 9 counties, from Humboldt in the North, on down into Sonoma, Mendocino and San Francisco to Santa Barbara, Ventura, Riverside, Los Angeles and Orange in the Southland.

After consulting with "TKE" in Palm Springs March 15, Kuchel came down hard for what the General had called the "distasteful necessity" of facing up to the monetary crises.

In Eureka, March 18, the senior Senator attacked the "Johnson Administration's off-again on-again off-again treatment of tax and fiscal policy."

And in Santa Rosa March 19, he observed, "the Democratic house is a house divided. Republicans can make honest political capital out of the Democratic Party's turmoil and dissension. We will go on to win the Presidency as well."

In San Francisco March 20, Kuchel criticized the Administration for "foot-dragging and paper-shuffling" in planning for the development of California's water resources.

The Senator's record on water gained the endorsement of Preton Hotchkiss, Los Angeles chairman of the Southland Water Committee; James F. Sorenson, Visalia member of Gov. Reagan's Acreage Limitation Task Force; and John M. Luther, Sacramento Manager of the California Central Valleys Flood Control Association.

On Friday, Senator Kuchel concluded this campaign swing with a defense of local law enforcement. Speaking before the Beverly Hills Bar Association, he said:

"The centralization of police power would be an abridgement of the American right to self-government, and a threat to the principle of local control."

Chinese are generally credited with using the abacus with which to count but Greeks, Romans and Egyptians, as well as Hindus, also used it.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

Averb in Spanish that is most useful as well as easy to remember is the verb "es." This verb means "is" or "it is" in English. The various uses of this verb may best be understood in their practical application.

For example, when we wish to say "It is large" we may say "Es grande." In this example the verb "es" means "it is." The subject "it" is not written but it is understood to be the subject and must be added to the English translation even though no equivalent word is given in Spanish.

When we say "El piano es grande." (The piano is large.) the verb "es" is simply translated as one word, "is." In this case the subject of the sentence is "piano" and there is no need to add the subject "it" to the phrase.

Pronunciation of "es" needs care. We have a tendency to pronounce it like the English word "is" because of the similarity in use and translation. The proper pronunciation is based on the "e" vowel which is pronounced "eh" in Spanish. The "eh" sound is then modified by the "s" that follows it and is pronounced "ehs."

Today's practice phrases have examples of how "es" may be used. Read the phrases and then practice saying them with the recorded voice when you dial 276-2762 on your telephone.
